

Our values

The Duché de Bicolline is a unique place where participants enjoy a certain freedom and where respect has always been the basis of relationships. Bicolline grows and expands. It's seem important and necessary to think about the values that define us.

We don't reinvent the wheel cause these values are already applied since the beginning. We count on you to share and apply these with the community because you are the guardians and ambassadors of Bicolline.

Here are the 7 important points to keep in mind to play and grow together for a long time:

Cooperation

We are all part of a recognized, established and accepted relationship that includes different groups and individuals. This relationship is the key driver for support, safety and integration. Participants must be able to rely on each other when needed.

Sustainability

Our community must respect the environment. We are committed to limiting our impact on the site and its natural resources. We must also ensure a healthy living environment to other participants by maintaining the site itself and respecting each other's living spaces.

Game ethics

Bicolline is a recreational activity that requires fairplay and the respect of various rules. Whether it be during combat activities, in the virtual game or under any other form, participants must respect the rules of the game and their essence. Grandis ta nature, ce n'est qu'un jeu.

Involvement

The creative effort put forward by participants enriches Bicolline. It is important that participants continue to get involved and put their person, their ideas or their art to the service of a common objective: refining and improving the game.

Inclusion

Since participants that partake in Bicolline's activities are involved in a process that directly influences their experience, elements of personal distinction cannot be used to discriminate against them.

Respect

Roleplaying is not an excuse for neglecting the well-being of others. Each participant has the right to the respect of his/her physical, psychological and moral integrity, whether it be "in game" or not. Under no circumstances can a participant contravene municipal, provincial or national laws.

Civic responsibility

The reality of life at Bicolline must be considered. We are all responsible for the well-being of everyone who participates in Bicolline's activities. Respect for tranquility and the right to celebrate must coexist harmoniously. It is every participant's duty to encourage proper conduct and to report incivilities. Participants must do more than simply denounce any lack of respect: they must also adopt attitudes that promote savoir vivre and preserve harmony within the community.