SASKATOON'S BOBBI BRANDON MONDAY QUALIFIES FOR 2018 CP WOMEN'S OPEN

Sixteen Canadians to compete at 2018 CP Women's Open

REGINA (Golf Canada) — Saskatoon native Bobbi Brandon was one of four golfers to claim one of the final exemptions into the 2018 CP Women's Open via Monday's qualifying event at Royal Regina Golf Club.

Brandon, a PGA of Canada Professional who works out of Moon Lake Golf & Country Club, carded a 2-over-par 74 to sit T2 among the 11-player field. This will be Brandon's second appearance at the CP Women's Open. She competed in Canada's National Women's Open in 1998 at Essex Golf and Country Club in Windsor, Ont., where she missed the cut.

Sweden's Louise Stahle fired a 2-under par 70 to earn medalist honours.

American Jennifer Hahn (74) and Japanese amateur Kasumi Kuniyoshi (76) earned the final two spots.

Brandon will be the 16th Canadian in the field at the CP Women's Open. All are trying to become the first Canadian to win an LPGA Tour event on Canadian soil since Canadian Golf Hall of Fame honoured member Jocelyne Bourassa won La Canadienne in 1973.

CP HAS HEART IN SUPPORT OF JIM PATTISON CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

Canadian Pacific will continue its history of making a substantial donation to the host community through its CP Has Heart community investment program. In the four years of CP's title sponsorship of the CP Women's Open, $6.5 million has been raised to support children's heart health in communities across Canada.

This year, the campaign is supporting pediatric cardiology at Saskatchewan's new Jim Pattison Children's Hospital in Saskatoon. Funds raised through the CP Women's Open will help assist a dedicated cardiology space and specialized equipment in the new hospital, currently under construction and scheduled to open in 2019.
