

ALAN VEERMAN

CHIEF OPERATIONS OFFICER

Alan brings to the Vector Institute more than 14 years in the central agencies of the provincial government, as well as direct experience working closely with the founding board, government partners, and industry sponsors to establish Vector.

Alan is a highly-regarded leader within public policy, and he has provided strategic advice on a series of high-profile signature government initiatives ranging from areas in electricity, transportation, and healthcare to environment, industry, and infrastructure.

With a background primarily in the province's Ministry of Finance, Alan has held a series of progressively more senior positions in different areas of analysis, coordination, operations, and policy.

For the last few years, Alan has been Project Director with Ed Clark, who now serves as Chair of the Vector Institute. Previously, Mr. Clark served as Chair of the Premier's Advisory Council on Government Assets and as the Premier's Business Advisor.

Alan holds a degree in environmental studies from the University of Waterloo.
